

Interested in

- applications of math/cs/statistics,
- internships, jobs, and other opportunities,
- graduate school,
- competitions, or
- fun, informative extracurricular topics?

Then check out:

www.weusemath.org

We Use Math is a non-profit site that helps answer “When will I use math?” and provides math-related career information.

www.ams.org/students

The American Mathematical Society is the primary research-oriented professional society in mathematics.

www.maa.org/students

The Mathematical Association of America is the primary teaching-oriented society in mathematics.

www.siam.org/students

The Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics is a primary society in applied mathematics.

www.acm.org

The Association for Computing Machinery is the primary educational and scientific computing society.

www.amstat.org

The American Statistical Association is the primary statistical society.